For those who refuse to compromise

Our traditional models are built with premium solid tonewoods – such as rosewood, mahogany, koa, ebony and spruce – as well as exotic varieties within these species in limited quantities. Many of these instruments include one-of-a-kind designs and highly faithful replicas of classic Martin models and require a great deal of hand craftsmanship.

Martin Strings

High quality strings are critical to a Martin guitar's tone and playability. What's more, a carefully gauged and balanced set of strings will greatly enhance the style of playing and facilitate technique. Like our guitars, each string is made carefully and precisely, using only premium materials. You'll find Martin strings in many different types and gauges to fit any style of playing, acoustic or electric. Available in 80/20 bronze and phosphor bronze.

For more information about C. F. Martin & Co.'s entire string line, visit martinstrings.com.

Acoustic & Acoustic Electric

For those seeking a highly innovative and cost effective alternative

These instruments utilize solid and laminated woods in varying degrees, depending on the model, as well as patented high-pressure laminates (HPL) on X Series and Little Martin instruments. Equally important, these instruments provide an ecologically-responsible approach to building guitars of alternative materials, natural and synthetic.
